Editorial

BITS Pilani, Pilani campus celebrated the 73rd Republic Day and the 71st Founder's Day with great fervor and enthusiasm. Conferences/workshops on issues of current importance such as Nanotechnology for Sustainable Living & Environment, Sports Engineering, and Artificial Intelligence Application for Electro Optical Sensors drew active participation from academia and industry to work out novel and sustainable solutions. Several research projects sponsored by reputed national and international agencies attest to BITS Pilani's sustained engagement with scientific and technological advancements and solutions to real problems.

Students' rising interest in participating in conferences and publishing papers with good journals, and winning awards and scholarships is quite admirable. Besides, the 40th edition of the annual technical festival, APOGEE 2022, based on the theme "The Encrypted Dimension", had a number of Hackathon and Codeathon events that caught the attention of computer whizzes and coding enthusiasts, providing creative solutions to common issues. Think Again Conclave, a three-day talk and interactive series, was an exciting event that featured several notable thinkers of the century. On the social front, the noble work of NSS, BITS Pilani is always praiseworthy. This time they organized "Netra Suraksha Divas", in collaboration with the Mahadeo Hospital, Pilani, for the supporting staff of the campus.

BITS alumni have always been graciously supportive of their alma mater. The 1970-75 batch has instituted a multi-crore endowment fund for providing scholarships to meritorious students facing financial difficulties. The batch had previously set up an oxygen plant at the Birla Sarvajani Hospital, Pilani, and provided funding to the startups, including Thinkerbell Labs, a venture that appeared on Shark Tank India and was widely appreciated.

Hope you enjoy reading about the heart-warming stories of this edition!
